

Future Build Recruitment Ltd

Future Build Recruitment is one of the leading technical recruitment companies in the UK, focusing on the construction industry, both nationally and internationally.

Objectives

- ▶ Design and build a website that is easily updated and showcases the unique personality of this dynamic consultancy firm

Solution

Keystone Construction Marketing worked with both of Future Build's directors to design and develop a website which is simple to use while elegantly showcasing their growing stature within the construction recruitment industry.

Although they are delighted with the finished product, what they really appreciate is the simplicity of the unique content management system (CMS) which makes updating the text and loading up new job vacancies as easy as sending an email.

Services

- ▶ Design and build new website with bespoke WYSIWYG (what you see is what you get) CMS including images and copywriting

For more information call 020 3326 0429 or email info@KeystoneCM.co.uk

“Keystone responded to our brief for a responsive and fresh website to appeal to national and multi-national companies and professional candidates. We were very happy with the informative and proactive service we received, adding value at every stage.”

Simon Yates,
Director